IN THE BAY STATE.

Candidate Bryan Expounds the Democratic Doctrine.

Thousands Turn Out to Greet Him and Give Him a Cordial Reception.

PITTFIELD, Mass., Sept. 25.—Greatly refreshed by a ten hours' sleep, Wm. J. Bryan left Hartford at 11:10 a. m. to "invade the enemy's country" still further. There was a crowd at the depot to catch a parting glimpse of the nominee, and to these Mr. Bryan made a few remarks. He told them that the money changer was interested in having a dear dollar and that the dear dollar meant hard times to the producers of wealth. There was no demonstration, no cheering, and nothing in the way of enthusiasm. In the train was a committee from Springfield, headed by Col. John L. Rice. The first stop was at Windsor, where a small crowd had gathered carrying the banner "McKinley and prosperity." There were a few cheers for him by part of the crowd and more cheers for his opponent. At Windsor Locks, the next stop, the assemblage was more enthusiastic for Mr. Bryan. There everybody wanted to shake hands with him and called on him for a speech. "I am glad to see you," was the extent of his address, and even that was applauded. Tompkinsville also gave him a cordial reception and he was cheered enthusiastically by the hundreds about the depot.

Mr. Bryan arrived in Springfield at 12:05 and was met at the station by Mayor Winter, members of the bar and aldermen, and Geo. Fred Williams. A great crowd followed him to the court square, where he spoke to a large audience that filled the park. On the conclusion of the speech he went to the Hotel Worthy for dinner. In the court park Mr. Bryan spoke as follows:

"Ladies and Gentlemen:—Before entering upon a discussion of the great paramount issue of this campaign, I desire in this city to pay a tribute to independent journalism. My friends, I have always respected an honest and earnest and able opponent. I never criticized the right of any one to speak his sentiments and present his ideas as clearly, as forcibly, as eloquently as he can. I believe, with Jeerson, that error is harmless where reason is left free to combat it. And if any man has an idea, I am willing to allow him to launch that idea and trust to the merits of that idea to make its way into the minds and into the hearts of men, and I respect the Springfield Republican for the high plane upon which it discusses political questions. I respect it for the tolerance which it shows to political opponents, and without censuring those who substitute abuse for argument, I can commend those who use argument instead of abuse. I can commend also to every citizen the words of that distinguished editor who was the founder of this paper. I am told that he is the author of the expression that "a man who is not willing to die for a cause in which he believes is not worthy to live." My friends, it is the willingness of people to stake their all upon the correctness of their convictions that has enabled them to spread them from person to person until at last they overcome the opposition. And in this campaign we have as good an illustration as was ever given of the depth of conviction and the intensity of earnestness in the presentation of this cause. I challenge you to find among all those who have defended a cause any who are more earnest than those found today among the advocates of the right of the government to legislate for itself without regard to other nations It will not do to say that there is no cause for such feeling as is manifested now. If you will read the dispatch that appeared in yesterday mornin's paper from London, you will knd that a great meeting of agriculturalists was held in Buda Pesth, and in speaking of that meeting the dispatches said practically all of those representing agricultural societies were in favor of the restoration of bi metallism. Our opponents sometimes tell us that this movement in favor of free coinage is started by the mine owners and that it is upheld by the mine owners. I want you to understand that they cannot explain this great uprising of the people on the theory that it is instigated by men who own bullion and want a higher price. This great uprising comes from the masses of the people who do not produce bullion, but they produce property, and they realize that the gold standard has been depriving values to the property they produce. The opposition press may well afford to pause in their ridicule of the advocctes of free coinage in their denunciation of them as lawless characters to find out whether this well founded reason for this advocacy of bimetallism among the farmers of the United States, of Ireland, of England, of Germany, of France and of every nation which has been cursed by the gold standard.

"My friends, I assert here, and I challenge any gold bug paper to dispute it, that a financial policy which is injurious to agricultural classes has nothing to commend it to the government in any nation on earth. Gold standard has never commended itself to the agricultural classes of any country which has ever had it. What will you say, then? Will you say that these farmers have no right to have their interests respected? You dare not say that, because, my friends, they must produce wealth before there is wealth to be distributed. What will you say, then? That, having the right to have their interests respected, they have not the intelligence to know what is best for them? No, you dare not, because you know that in public life and in business life the best brains that you have come from the farms of this country.

"What answer will you make to them? When they ask for bread, will you give them a stone? When they ask for fish, will you bestow a serpent upon them? That has been the policy of the financiers of this country, and disembling their selfishness they have been attempting to force their ideas upon others. While others have fallen down beneath the weight of those ideas, the financiers themselves have risen to prosperity on the prostrate forms of the fallen. No person can accuse me of attempting to deny to the financiers, or even to the money changers the right to their opinion, the right to their votes, the right to every legitimate influence. What I deny to them is this: The right to think for anybody but themselves, the right to act for anybody but themselves, the right to put themselves above other people and go through the world crying, 'I am holier than thou; I am holier than thou.'"

YALE DENOUNCED.

Leading Paper of the Town Condemns the Students.

Calls Their Demonstration "Horse Play," and Characterizes it as Disgraceful to the Actors.

NEW HAVEN, Conn, Sept. 25.—The Yale News today has the following editorial commenting on the disturbance at the Bryan meeting here yesterday: "The News must deprecate the spirit of 'horse play'—this is the true light in which the animus must be regarded which prompted the demonstration at yesterday's political meeting. The action of the Yale men present plainly showed a lack of respect for the dignity of the speaker as a public man, everything political aside; and thoughtful and fairminded consideration will unanimously condemn and regret the exhibition, irrespective of party affiliation."

BICYCLE RACE.

The Great Twenty-four Hour Affair Now On.

The Winner Must Cover Four Hundred Miles--Gimm Bids Fair to Reach the Pennant.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The remarkable twenty-four hour bicycle race on one of the finest tracks in the world is going on today, with the men in apparently good condition after the race last night that established fifty and 100 mile records which may hold for years. The feature of this race has been the lowering of records by so many riders in a twenty-four hour race. The record up to last night for 100 miles had been for trials, and not in a race. The conditions of this race are that even the winner of the fifty and 100 mile records will not be paid unless he rides at least 400 miles during the twenty-four hours and, should he accomplish the feat of winning the twenty-four hour race, he stands to win a large number of prizes for time records on fifty, 100 and other distances, also a prize for winning the twenty-four hour race. At 11 o'clock this morning the score stood: Gimm, 309; Schinner, 292; Miller, 289; Waller, 283 miles, 3 laps; Myers, 276 miles, 1 lap; Harding, 269; Schock, 262; Hanson, 255 miles, 3 laps; Blakeslee, 237 miles, 3 laps.

END OF THE SEVENTEENTH HOUR.

At 2 p. m., the conclusion of the seventeenth hour, the score of the riders was: Gimm, 366 miles, 3 laps; Schinner, 341 miles, 1 lap; Waller, 344 miles, 1 lap; Miller, 322 miles, 2 laps; Myers, 321 miles; Schock, 315 miles; Harding, 316 miles, 1 lap.

M'KINLEY'S VISITORS.

The Glassmakers of Marion Call Upon Him.

They Are Numerous Enough to Fill Eight Coaches, and Have Two Brass Bands.

CANTON, Ohio, Sept. 25.—Members of the McKinley household had not breakfasted when the first delegation arrived this morning. It was from Marion, Ind., occupied a special train of eight coaches and represented the glassworkers of Grant county, Ind. The introduction was made by Dr. W. R. Francis. Two bands came with the party. Mr. McKinley spoke as follows:

"My fellow citizens of the city of Marion and of Grant county, Indiana: I congratulate you upon being first today. No other delegation has yet preceded you. I give you, each and everyone of you, warm and cordial welcome to my home. I welcome the republicans and the citizens of the Hoosier state—the state of that grand old war governor, Oliver P. Morton, and that splendid president and patriot, Benjamin Harrison.

"You are here this morning, not to honor me personally, but to honor the cause which you love and which you mean to support; and you mean to support that cause because you believe it will inure to your welfare and the best well being of the country at large.

You believe in that cause, because you have tried it, and having tried it you know you have been more prosperous in your occupations under the policy which it represents, than you have ever been under any other policy, and if anything was needed to confirm you in your devotion to that policy you could find it in your experience of the last four years. Under no other policy, under no other principles, have you enjoyed that depth of individual or national prosperity which for more than thirty years you enjoyed under republican policy and republican administrations, and you are here this morning to testify anew your devotion to republican principles and your deep and abiding interest that they may be successful throughout the country next November.

"You are interested in Indiana just as we are interested here in Ohio, both in agriculture and in manufacturing. You know something in that great gas belt of what manufacturing means to any community. You know where there is successful manufacturing there is a prosperous city, and you know where there is a prosperous city there is always prosperous agriculture. The farms about a little manufacturing city advance in value and the market of the farmer is enhanced every time you put up a new factory in any community or in any city. You have in your city of Marion, as I recall, an industry which manufactures glass that used to be in the city of Canton. Am I right about that? It is a good industry. Well, now, that fairly illustrates my idea. That used to be, I said, a Canton industry. We would very much have preferred to have had it remain here, but it was taken away. However, it did not go out of our own country. It went into a neighboring state and therefore benefits the American family—American workmen still get the work. We share in your good fortune and prosperity, but we would have felt differently if it had gone on the other side and out of the United States. In a word, we want to do our manufacturing at home, and if we cannot do it in Ohio, we are willing to have you do it in Indiana. And, if we cannot do it in Canton, I do not know of any city in Indiana in which I would rather have it go than the city of Marion.

"I am glad to meet you here this morning. We want in this country good times, good wages, steady employment, a good home market and then we want to continue the good, sound, honest dollars with which to do our business and pay our labor. My fellow citizens, I thank you for this morning call and bid you hearty welcome. It will now give me pleasure to meet and greet each one of you personally."

DEMOCRATIC LADIES

Will Attend the Bryan Meeting at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn, Sept. 25.—One of the features of the Bryan speaking in this city on the morning of October 5 will be a ladies' Bryan and Sewall club from Mississippi. A letter was received for the transportation of the club by the Illinois Central passenger department yesterday, asking for two special cars for the club. There will be an army from Woodruff county, Ark., composed of some 500, moving a'la Coxey. The movement is under the direction of Capt. R. N. Westmoreland, an old war horse in those parts. He has been already tendered fifty wagons and teams by the farmers in the vicinity of Cotton Plant, and with this as the basis of the organization he will set out on Friday, October 2.

To Take the Places of Strikers.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., Sept. 25.—About 100 miners from the southern Kansas and Joplin districts have left here in special cars for Leadville, Colo., to take the places of the striking miners there They go under contract and are piloted by a representative of the mine owners.

Two Drowned.

WHEELING, W. Va, Sept. 25.—Thos. Willard, a brick layer, while in a drunken spree, yesterday took his son, aged seventeen; Mary Wilbert, aged twelve, and Mary Gray skiff riding on the Ohio river. He upset the boat. James McGrail rowed out and rescued Mary Gray and Willard's son. Willard and Mary Wilbert were drowned.

MINING TROUBLES.

Leadville Under Control of a Provost Guard.

A Clash Between Judicial and Federal Authority is One of the Probabilities.

LEADVILLE, Col., Sept. 25.—Under the latest order of General Brooks this city was today placed under the control of a provost guard or military police force. The miners from Joplin, Mo, numbering about 100 men, who will arrive here today, have been engaged to work in the Marian, Small Hopes and Emmett mines, of the Small Hopes companies, of which S. W. Mudd is manager. The Emmett has been working right along with a small force of non-union men. The other two mines named will be started up at once under a strong guard. Great pressure has been brought to bear upon Edward Joyce, president of the Western Federation of Miners, to induce him to use his influence with the Leadville Miners' union to call the strike off. He refused and said that not 5 per cent. of the members of the union would vote to call the strike off. An attempt will be made today to have the accused men admitted to bail Judge Owens will probably grant the application. It is expected that General Brooks will have them immediately re-arrested. They may then obtain writs of habeas corpus. Should General Brooks ignore such writs, he will be cited for contempt of court and the governor's report to place the community under military rule will be reviewed in court. The case is likely to reach the supreme court on a writ of error.

KING JOHN R. GENTRY.

His Time is 2:00 1-2 at Rigby Park.

Paces the Fastest Mile Ever Made in Harness--Frank Bogash Wins at Columbus, Ohio.

PORTLAND, Me, Sept. 25.—John R. Gentry yesterday afternoon, at Rigby park, paced the fastest mile ever made in harness, and placed the world's record at 2:00½.

The day was cold and a light north westerly wind was blowing up the stretch when John R. Gentry, with W. S. Andrews upon the sulky, came out to go against his record of 2:01¼, made September 8, this year, at Glens Falls, N. Y., in the second heat of a race with Star Pointer.

Gentry had been given two warming up miles during the afternoon, and when he came out for the third the sun was rapidly sinking. The famous pacer scored once or twice with the runner who was to pace him.

The runner was at the pacer's throat latch as they made the first turn on the stretch. Gentry went steadily and with apparent ease, the runner having hard work keeping his position. The judges caught the quarter mile at 29½ seconds, and the second quarter was made in 30 seconds, making the half mile in 0:59½.

The runner, by the use of the whip, was keeping up at Gentry's wheel, but was making hard work of it. The third quarter was made in :30¾, making the three quarters in 1:30¼. As they turned into the home stretch and caught the wind in the teeth, both Andrews and the driver commenced to ring encouragement to their horses and to use the whip a little.

The pacer spurted for the wire, making the most remarkable quarter of the heat in :30¼, making the mile in 2:00½.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 25.—Yesterday the weather was clear and warm; track fast. Joe Mooney won the unfinished 2:24 pace, taking the fifth heat in 2:11½. The summaries:

2:18 trot, purse $500—Red Pointer, first; Marquette, second; Irene Bobb, third; best time—2:17½.

2:11 pace, purse $500—Frank Bogash, first; Mary Russell, second; Billy C., third; best time—2:09½.

2:35 trot, purse $500 (unfinished)—Bright Light won the first heat in 2:19½ and Rosa L. the second and third heats in 2:17½, 2:17½.

RUN DOWN AT LAST.

Arrest of John Riley Results in Startling Disclosures.

One of an Organized Gang of Daylight Burglars Captured While Robbing the Crane Residence.

Miss Alice Crane, while alone at her home, corner of Jefferson and College streets, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, discovered the presence of a man in the house. The intruder had entered through a back window while the young lady was up stairs. Hearing a noise below, Miss Crane went down and was startled by coming face to face with a real daylight burglar. She demanded to know the reason for his presence there, at which he endeavored to convince her that he had followed a thief into the house for the purpose of capturing him. Surprised at the man's brazen efforts to thus reassure her, yet not losing her presence of mind, Miss Crane ran to the front door and gave the alarm. Several workmen engaged on the street paving contract hastened to the spot but the fellow had improved the opportunity to make a hasty flight. He ran through the back yard and through the alley, closely pursued, and, in crossing a lot, as lucky chance would have it, he ran into the arms of Officer Hobbs.

The prisoner was taken to the station by Officers Hobbs and Pageler. On his person was found a roll of money amounting to $168 and a package of bills advertising political meetings. The latter, it is supposed, he was passing from house to house as a dodge to assist him in the work of daylight robbery.

The prisoner gives his name as John Riley and says he came from Columbus, Ohio. At police court this morning he waived examination and was sent to jail under $500 bond. He retained E. V. Emrick as his attorney.

There is convincing evidence of Riley being one of an organized gang of thieves, although he endeavors to face the charges with an air of innocence. No more substantial evidence of this fact could be found than the shoes on his feet, which were identified by Gus Rabus as his own this morning. It is pretty clear, then, that either this man or some of his associates went through the Rabus residence a week ago.

The officers think they have cornered a dangerous criminal, and Miss Crane is winning praise from every quarter for her clever work under such a trying ordeal.

Superintendent Gorsline will make an effort to draw out some facts from the prisoner, which may lead to the arrest of the entire gang. The inducement of lessening his own sentence by turning states evidence and implicating others may work wonders in this case.

TWO BAD BOYS.

William Monahan, eighteen years, and Robert Droegemeyer, sixteen years, were arrested by Officer Hobbs last night for jumping on trains. The boys have been giving the railroads and others a good deal of trouble lately and the mayor fined both of them $10 and costs, but suspended sentence, pending good behavior.

THIS IS STRANGE.

Maggie O'Leary, known vulgarly as "Skinny Mag," was behind the bars again last night for vagrancy. The mayor sent her to jail.

BOTH LEGS CRUSHED.

John C. Matsch, Formerly of This City, the Victim.

Amputation of Both Limbs May be Necessary--Born and Raised in Fort Wayne.

Painful news reached the city today of a terrible accident which happened to John C. Matsch, a former citizen of Fort Wayne and who was born and raised here.

Mr. Matsch has for several years occupied the position of foreman in the Pacific Iron works at San Francisco, Cal. The distressing message states that Mr. Matsch, while overseeing the construction of a large building, was pinned to the earth by an iron beam, which fell from a heighth of fifty feet. The immense weight caught him just above the knees, crushing both legs so badly that amputation may become necessary. The injury at any rate will undoubtedly make him a cripple for life.

Mr. Matsch has a wide circle of acquaintances in Fort Wayne. He is a member in good standing of Harmony lodge No. 19, I. O. O. F., and Summit City lodge No. 170, F. and A. M. His brother, Christian Matsch, is the chief clerk for Superintendent Pickard, at the Bass foundry and M. F. Schmeltzer, the township trustee, is a brother-in-law.

J. B. Emrick, of Poe, Allen county, Ind., fell off a scaffold while building a wood shed, and broke his left arm. Mr. Emrick is well known in Fort Wayne.

Fred Miller, of the Indiana Furniture company, is suffering from a crushed foot, received while drilling with the Zollinger battery.

A little daughter of John Bernhart, of DeWald street, fell on a piece of broken bottle while at play yesterday afternoon and almost cut her nose off. Dr. J. E Miller dressed the wound.

QUICKLY DONE.

Dora Schlaudroff Given a Divorce From Her Husband.

Two Other Divorce Cases Begun in the Courts--Criminal Suit on Trial.

Randall & Doughman, as attorneys for the plaintiff, Dora Schlaudroff, filed a complaint in the circuit court this morning asking for a legal separation from her husband, George Schlaudroff. The defendant had accepted service of summons and the case was called up at once before Judge O'Rourke and the divorce was granted on the grounds of abandonment. The plaintiff was restored to her maiden name, Dora Ormiston.

James R. Johnston, through his attorney, J. H. Powers, has brought suit in the superior court asking for a legal separation from Harriet Julia Johnston.

Walter Kelsey and Harry Ward are on trial in the circuit court for burglarizing the Pantitorium. They entered this place and stole a pair of pants belonging to C. D. Law, superintendant of the Pennsylvania railroad company. They are being defended by W. P. Breen and John Rodabaugh.

John Wolbold and Orphas Wolbold, James R. Miller and Lotta Herring, Henry D. Herman and Carrie Rehling, Henry R. Welton and Gertrude Dougherty have been licensed to wed.

James Reed is on trial before Justice France for assaulting Andrew Anderson. The parties live at Edgerton.

An application has been made in the circuit court for the appointment of a guardian for Patrick Killiean, who is alleged to be an habitual drunkard. R. B. Dreibelbiss, the attorney, drew up and filed the application for the parties interested.

Iriene Bristol has commenced divorce proceedings against Adoris P. Bristol. The complaint alleges abandonment and failure to provide. T. W. Wilson, attorney for the plaintiff.

THE republican state committee announces that the five veterans who are making a tour of the middle western states—Gen. O. O. Howard, Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, Gen. Franz Sigel, Gen. R. A. Alger and "Corporal" Tanner—will spend four days in this state, instead of three as first announced.

IN reply to an inquiry, we give the per capita circulation of money in the United States for the years named as follows: 1865, $47.52; 1866, $50 76; 1867, $36 68; 1892, $26 02; 1893, $24 34; 1896, $21.18.

DURING 1895, according to statistics on the subject, the people of the United States spent $20,000,000 for chewing gum. Times may be hard, but it can not be said that while money is thus spent for what cannot be regarded in any other light than that of a luxury, the people are starving.

SECRETARY EDGERTON, of the populist national committee, has tried his hand at forecasting the outcome of the November election. He figures that Bryan will have 295 electoral votes and McKinley 152 He places California, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska and Washington—all disputed states—in the Bryan column.

THE action of the students of Yale college in interrupting the democratic meeting at New Haven, Conn., yesterday by "yelling down" Mr. Bryan, who was attempting, in the midst of the disorder created by them, to speak, is to be severely condemned. It was an outrage on the rights of free speech and an action which even republicans with strong partisan feelings and prejudice could not reasonably justify.

CHAIRMAN MARTIN, of the silver democratic state committee, announces the appointment of a new executive committee composed of R. C. Bell, of Fort Wayne; G. V. Menzies, Mt. Vernon; Hugh Daugherty, Bluffton; John B. Stoll, South Bend; Ben T. Louthain, Logansport; Thomas L Sullivan, Indianapolis; Adam Heimberger, New Albany; William H. O'Brien, Lawrenceburg; William E. English, Indianapolis; John O. Henderson, Indianapolis; Wat Evans, Noblesville; William A. Cullop, Vincennes; Henry A. Barnhart, Rochester; Thomas J. Study, Richmond; Crawford Fairbanks, Terre Haute; Henry Stockfleth, Evansville; John Osterman, Indianapolis; Frank D. Heimbaugh, Muncie; J. M. Lautman, Hammond; George W. Geiger, Indianapolis; M. M. Hathaway; Winamac.

Frank H. Johnson, a former resident of this city, committed suicide by shooting himself at Chicago Wednesday last. Mr. Johnson was born in Fort Wayne and was educated in the Jefferson street school. His father, the late Joseph Johnson, was a carpenter, and Frank learned the same trade after leaving school. Twenty-two years ago he left the city and went to Chicago, where in a short time he became known as a successful operator on the board of trade, and amassed a large fortune, which recent reverses dispersed. The funeral took place in Chicago today.

EVERY movement of the muscles, whether it accomplishes anything or not, whether voluntary, costs an outlay of bodily strength. Every thought also involves an expenditure of strength. Therefore, all thought involving fret, worry, fear or borrowed trouble, is so much strength unprofitably expended. You may always tell a man or woman whose existence has been a lifelong fret by their careworn, emaciated faces. They are never healthy. Fret kills more people than the cholera. It leaks away strength constantly. At last the weakest organ of function gives way. This we call disease. The doctor comes and gives the disease a Latin name. The disease may attack heart, liver, lung, or other part of the body, but the real and underlying cause has been at work for years in the patient's mind. It may almost be called automatic mind or body action, or automatic exhaustion.

Our Gubernatorial Candidate.

Hon. B. F. Shively, the democratic nominee for governor of this state, came from Columbia City last night and was a guest of the Wayne hotel until 1 o'clock today, when he left for Huntington.

While in this city Mr. Shively met many of our citizens, who called on him at his hotel. He expresses himself as being well pleased with the political outlook in Indiana and expects the state to go democratic both for the national and state tickets in November. The farmers, he says, are turning to the democratic party in large numbers and the gains from this direction are assured, while the workmen in the cities are awake to the fact that the policies of the Chicago platform are the best for their interests.

Mr. Shively is making an active canvass of the state and everywhere he goes he is making friends and votes for himself and the party. He is a most forcible and interesting speaker and discusses the political issues in such a plain manner that he carries conviction to the minds of his hearers. During his six years service in congress Mr. Shively proved himself one of the ablest of its members and was always watchful of and working for the best interests of the people. As governor of the state of Indiana he would make the same record.

Our Coast Defenses.

The construction of coast defenses is something that takes time. The last congress appropriated twelve million dollars for that purpose, and the government will soon let contracts for five or six million dollars' worth of guns, some of which are to be sixteen inch rifles, the heaviest gun ever constructed in this country and of which there are few in the world. From this time forward the American people will begin to see the increasing results of the expenditure of the twelve million appropriated in the accumulation of guns and notably in the strengthening of the fortifications of New York and San Francisco These two, our great eastern and western ports, will be made impregnable, and work will be done at the most important ports on our Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

The experience of the civil war showed that the defenses of a coast must be "made to order" to be effectual. They must be constructed, in fact, from time to time. The southern coast was defended by forts which, when built, answered the requirements of the period. But they are inadequate to resist the fire of more modern ships and guns. It seems a necessity to keep the science of fortification and defense abreast with that of naval construction and attack. Yesterday's fort may not be what is needed to stand off today's attacking navy.

When it comes to a war we must have three "lines of fight," as they were called by the common folks in the war times. Our navy, not the "wooden walls" of old, but walls of steel, then the line of coast defense, and then the army. Our floating defense has reached a point of strength and perfection never before known, so that Americans absolutely speak well of their own ships. The sailors have always been praised, but the vessels, until the construction of the present navy, were disparaged. As to the coast defenses we have great hopes of what twelve millions of money will do, and as for the army, the last and living wall, no American allows himself to doubt.

Republican for Free Silver.

KANSAS CITY, Mo, Sept. 25—Congressman R. T. Vanhorn, republican, was the principal speaker at a meeting held here last night under the auspices of the Bryan Silver club. He declared emphatically for the free coinage of silver, and while he did not declare his purpose to vote for Bryan, his appearance at the meeting is considered to be a virtual announcement that he will support the ticket.

Miss Clark, matron of the Home for Emergencies, has gone to Dayton, Ohio, to visit.

ADDRESS TO LABOR.

Workingmen Protest Against Coercion of Corporations

In Their Endeavor to Control Votes of Employes—Formation of an Anti-Government by Injunction Club.

At a meeting held last night in the Sons of Freedom hall, seventy-five representative men of the labor organizations of the city and those in sympathy with labor, met and perfected the organization of a club, which, under the name of "The Anti Government by Injunction Club," is intended to protect employes against the encroachments of corporations on their political rights and to resist the coercion which it is reported is being practiced on the part of these corporations throughout the country to control the votes of the laboring men.

Frank S. Mullaby was elected president, David P. Murphy vice president and James Curry secretary. An executive committee was also selected and preparations made for holding a public meeting, at which addresses will be delivered. At the meeting last night it was decided to issue the following address:

HEADQUARTERS ANTI GOVERNMENT BY INJUNCTION CLUB,
FORT WAYNE, Ind., Sept 24 1896

To Members of Labor Organizations and to those in Sympathy with Organized Labor—Greeting:

In past years when you have felt that you had grievances that should receive redress, and after exhausting all other means at your command have used, or contemplated using your single weapon of defense—the strike—you have been counselled and urged upon all sides to seek redress for your grievances at the ballot box. The time for the exercise of your ballot has come. The eve of a presidential election finds one principal problem before the people, almost to the exclusion of every other.

This is a question purely of economics, and notwithstanding that the former campaigns, upon other engrossing questions that have been to the fore, members of syndicates, railroad corporations, bankers, bondholders, capitalists and others either owning or controlling vast wealth have been divided in their support and affiliations between the various political parties, each occupying the position that seemed to him wisest, or most likely to conserve his personal interests; this good year of 1896 finds these interests standing together in serried ranks, in unbroken phalanx to oppose, ostensibly the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and to that end to defeat the candidacy for president of William Jennings Bryan, the nominee of the democratic party, the silver party and the people's party.

It would be passing strange if the owners of concentrated wealth, with interests scattered over the entire continent, which interests must necessarily partake of the prosperity or depression of the section in which they are located, should declare with practical unanimity upon any question purely economic, were there not some ulterior design or object beyond and beneath that of the simple restoration of silver to the position it occupied in our currency prior to the monetary legislation of 1873.

You have been treated within the past few weeks to the spectacle of the high officials of railroad corporations leaving their homes and business affairs in distant states and coming to your city to instruct their employes how to cast their ballots on November 3—a spectacle never before witnessed upon Indiana soil. You have seen literature containing specious pleas and misleading arguments if not downright perversion of truth, sent out under the auspices of these corporations, all with the view of defeating William J. Bryan for the presidency. As they seek to encompass his defeat, so they are putting forth unheard of efforts to bring about the election of William McKinley. One need not search too closely to discover the true reason for the rallying of these hosts of aggregated capital to a common center. It lies, in our opinion, in that other and equally vital plank of the Chicago platform, which reads as follows:

"We denounce arbitrary interference by federal authorities in local affairs as a violation of the constitution of the United States and a crime against free institutions, and we especially object to government by injunction as a new and highly dangerous form of oppression by which federal judges, in contempt of the laws of the states and rights of citizens, become at once legislators, judges and executioners; and we approve the bill passed at the last session of the United States senate and now pending in the house of representatives relative to contempt in federal courts and providing for trial by jury in certain cases of contempt."

Fresh in your minds is the recollection of the recent arbitrary sentence and imprisonment by a federal judge, of officers of a labor union, who, relying upon their rights as citizens, were nevertheless made to feel the iron hand of corporation displeasure, though encased in the velvet glove of a federal court.

William J. Bryan is a man of the people, of unblemished private character and brilliant and untarnished public record, his great heart, like that of the beloved Lincoln, beats in true sympathy with him who earns his bread in the sweat of his face.

Back of and towering above McKinley is the dominating and evil influence of Mark Hanna, long known as the bitter and uncompromising foe of organized labor. Rich, crafty, avaricious for wealth and power; well recognizing the benefits of organized co-operation, and availing himself of the benefits thereof, he denies to the toiler his right to organize for the protection of himself and his fellows. His entire business career is marked by a trail of blood, misery and poverty; his vast fortune of many millions was wrung from the defenseless withers of unprotected labor. Would you trace this path of misery and calamity to labor, ask the Seamen's union of the great lakes, whose organization he hounded for four long years, and finally left it lying bleeding and disrupted. Ask the mine workers of Pennsylvania and Michigan whose places are filed with degraded and ignorant Polacks, Slavs and Hungarians from the slums of Europe. Seek your answer from the broken and battered union of street railway employes of the city of Cleveland. Would you know further, ask the union printers who were forced out of the office of the Cleveland Herald, when it came under the malign influence of this crusher of honest labor. Seek honest old John Ellsler, builder of the beautiful opera house in Cleveland, whom he turned out, old and penniless to die upon the streets, after robbing him of $250,000, his all.

The first question asked of an applicant for labor in any of his enterprises is: "Are you a member of a labor union? If so, you can't work here."

He has built houses and refused work to every carpenter, bricklayer, plasterer and artisan of any kind who belonged to a labor union. He has fought labor unionism off his boats, out of his coal holes. He has drowned it in the lakes, bayonetted it about his works, starved it along his railroads, choked it to death in his mines And now he would ask the votes of laboring men to place him in the position of owning and controlling a president, the crowning achievement of his lifetime of war upon labor. Who can doubt, that, having lifted his candidate out of the mire of bankruptcy, having purchased his nomination, and having spent money like water to secure his election, that he and the syndicate aiding him propose to seek a return for their investment and that return government by injunction, when it shall conserve the interests of those to whom McKinley will have owed his elevation to that position? Who can doubt the result? The workingman who dares assert his right to organize will not only face the present difficulties that are all but insurmountable, but must combat the indomitable will of this butcher of human rights, the real power in the administration.

It is but a short step from indictment for "conspiracy" to indictment for "treason," and "treason" may mean membership in an organization, the purpose of which is to "conspire" against the sacred and vested property rights of syndicates and corporations Organized labor should be possessed of good memory. It should never forget. It dare not forget. Its enemies are always on the alert to bring about its undoing. Workingmen, will you forget that you have it in your power to snatch from a ruthless destroyer of labor unions the sweet particular ambition of his life, to own a president? Will you further the interests of this man who has been and is now the inveterate enemy of labor? Who prefers the service of the unfair laborer to that of the self-respecting unionist? Whose wage scale is that which will barely permit existence, and whose browbeaten, coerced and miserable employes are bound by a slavery more pitiful and abject than was that of the black man?

This appeal is made to you in no partisan spirit. Were William J. Bryan managed by and mortgaged to Mark Hanna and the syndicates as is William McKinley, our appeal would be the same. You have been told to seek redress at the ballot box. Will you do it?

FRANK S. MULLABY,
President.
DAVID P. MURPHY,
Vice President.

JAMES CURRY,
Secretary.

Murder at Rochester.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 25—Andrew Watt, a plumber, and his brother, Robert, a railroad fireman, quarreled last night over money matters. Andrew left the saloon in which the quarrel arose, but stopped outside to talk with two friends. In a few minutes Robert also left the saloon, and, seeing Andrew, attacked him. The two clinched and fell. Before they were separated Robert stabbed Andrew, inflicting a wound which caused death an hour later. The fratricide escaped. He is twenty-four years of age, while Andrew was twenty eight.

Resumed Work.

PUEBLO, Col., Sept. 25—Every department of the Pueblo steel plant of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, about which sensational reports of a general shut down were recently circulated, has resumed full operation with a force of 2 000 men.

Fast Bicycle Time.

DENVER, Colo, Sept. 25.—With the help of a moderate wind on a straight away track, Stanley M. Barrows made quarter mile in fifteen and one fifth seconds. It is claimed to be the fastest quarter of a mile ever ridden on a bicycle.

Resumed Operations.

SARATOGA, N. Y, Sept. 25—The Saratoga Victory Manufacturing company, employing 600 hands, at Victory Mills, Saratoga county, has resumed operations, after being shut down two months.

Western League Winds Up Its Schedule Season.

Now Playing the Free Press Cup Series—Results of the Games Yesterday.

The season of the Western base ball league has closed. President B. B. Johnson reports a very successful season, all the clubs making money with a single exception. The race was closely contested, especially between Minneapolis, Indianapolis, St Paul and Detroit, that were at different times leaders. The sport of the season developed many good players, and left the league stronger than ever. The games for the Detroit Free Press cup will be played at Indianapolis, on the three remaining days of this week, and at Minneapolis on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday of next week.

Mason; remarks on clinic, Dr S. B Brown. The doctors will return home this evening.

A NEW SECRETARY.

A. M. White Accepts a Call to the City Y. M. C. A.

Man of Large Experience in the Field He Occupies—Resigns at St. Louis, Mo.

The directors of the city department Y. M. C. A. upon the resignation of Secretary W. F. McCaughey some weeks ago extended a call to A. M White, who has for a long time past efficiently held the secretaryship of the association at St. Louis, Mo The matter was kept quiet owing to the uncertainty of securing the services of that gentleman.

This morning a letter of acceptance was received from Mr. White and he will shortly arrive to assume his duties

The new secretary comes well qualified to carry on the work as he has had a valuable experience in the field he occupies His retirement from the St Louis association is due greatly to the condition of his wife's health, a change of climate being recommended by her physician. He had another call under consideration from the Omaha association, but of the two preferred Fort Wayne.

The retiring secretary, Mr. McCaughey, has been advised by his physician to engage in something that will give him out door exercise and it is understood that he may become identified with state work in the same cause he has so faithfully served.

A Word or Two to those suffering from catarrh or the thousands subject to severe attacks of cold in the head, will not be amiss if a sure remedy can be offered. Ely's Cream Balm has become a favorite in all sections of the United States, because of its effectiveness. Your cold in the head will be quickly relieved by it, and the severest attack of catarrh will yield to, and be perfectly cured by a thorough treatment. Catarrh is not a blood disease, but an inflammation of the passages of the nose and throat, due to climatic changes.

ROBISON PARK.

The Single Scull Race for the Championship of Ohio and Indiana at Robison Park Tomorrow.

Aquatic day at Robison park tomorrow promises to be one of the most interesting days of this popular resort The single scull race for the championship of Indiana and Ohio between Charles Prince and William Miller will be the principal event. Prince has held the championship against all comers for the past thirteen years. Miller is a popular young athlete and is backed by the St. Joe Boat club.

Swimming races, single and double boat races and tub races are also on the program Handsome gold medals will be presented to the winners by Manager Robison, the championship medal being one of the finest ever offered.

A big public shoot will also take place at the park the same day, in which the members of the Electric Gun club and others will participate.

Single Boat Race—George Evarts, H Steinacher, W. Dollton, R Tricteoh, F Etsche, A. S. Durnell, H. Hartman.

Double Boat Race—H. Hartman and A. S Durnell; George Evarts and R Tricteoh; H. Steinacher and F. Etsche.

To the Owners of Vehicles.

In order to avoid all unnecessary annoyances by officers who have been instructed to enforce the vehicle ordinance, I hereby call the attention of every owner of vehicles who has paid his license to the following section of the vehicle ordinance, which reads:

Section 4. There shall be kept conspicuously in view on the harness or horses drawing every vehicle mentioned in this ordinance the registered number of such vehicle, so that the same can be easily read from the sidewalk The plate to be placed on the trace, neck strap, saddle or girth on the left hand side of the horse, and in case of double team, on the left hand side of the left hand horse. On bicycles the plate or tag to be fastened to and suspended from the rear part of the saddle.

Section 8: Anyone who shall violate the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall in addition to the other penalties be fined in a sum not less than twice the amount of such license, penalty and costs.

In justice to all I intend to enforce this ordinance to the very letter and caution all owners of vehicles to take notice of the foregoing provisions.

Unique Corps of Religious Workers Arrive in the City.

They Travel in a Wagon and Are Saving Souls Wherever They Go.

A "gospel" wagon, put upon the road by the Free Methodists, arrived in the city last evening, with its corps of religious workers. The wagon was constructed and started upon its mission at Greenville, Ohio. It is in charge of Rev. A. O Conway and among the party it conveys are Mrs Potter, of Muncie, and Mrs. Matthews, of Union City, who are noted at home for their religious zeal. The party is headed for Knox, Ind., which place it expects to reach October 7, the day set for the meeting of the annual conference of the Free Methodist church.

FARMERS' PICNIC.

The Farmers' picnic at Robison park yesterday was a success in every particular. Rural residents came in from all parts of the county, accompanied by their families, to participate in the day's pleasures.

The contests were interesting and especially so was the band contest for the championship of Allen county, the judges of which were F. Reineke, jr., H. P. Scherer, Earnest Williams, Henry Grodzik and George Jacobs. City bands were barred and the prize and championship, was won by Huntertown; Geoglein, second.

The base ball contests were also very interesting to lovers of the sport. They were under the management of William Meyer, jr., with M. Lynch as umpire. This contest also was confined to clubs outside the city. The first game was played at 10 a. m., between Maysville and Maples and was won by Maysville by a score of 13 to 2

At 11:30 a. m. the second game was called and was contested by Huntertown and Hoagland. Score—Huntertown, 5; Hoagland, 0

At 1:30 p. m. Cedarville crossed bats with the Union Chapel nine, and the former won the game by 10 to 4

The hottest contest of the day was the one played at 2:30 p. m., between Maysville and Huntertown, the score standing at the close, 5 to 1 in favor of Maysville.

The fifth and final game took place at 3 p. m., and resulted in Maysville securing eleven runs and shutting out the Cedarville team.

The Maysville nine thus won the championship of Allen county and received the prize. The team is composed of clever gentlemen and they won the regard of the persons who were on the ground.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

RAILWAY RUMBLINGS.

The Pennsylvania Will Carry the Chicago Cyclists to Canton.

America Has the Greatest Railway in the World--Gossip of the Shops and Offices.

The Pennsylvania local officials have received notice of a proposed excursion over the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road of the National Wheelmen's McKinley club, of Chicago, to Canton on October 21. Concerning the matter the Chicago Herald says: "It is estimated that from 3,000 to 5,000 bicyclists will make the pilgrimage. The excursionists will leave the trains at Massillon and ride into Canton on their wheels. By the rules of the Pennsylvania company no charge will be made for carrying the bicycles."

At the Pennsylvania offices a SENTINEL reporter was informed that, if the above estimate of the number of excursionists is correct, it would require eleven trains of eight or ten cars each to carry them. It would also require three freight trains of thirty-four box cars each to carry the bicycles. These men and their wheels, riding two abreast and allowing fifteen feet of space for each couple, would form a line over seven miles in length, reaching from Massillon to Canton.

THE PENNSYLVANIA SEATS THE WORLD

The London and Northwestern Railroad company has a capital of $595,000,000, it has a revenue of $6,500 an hour, 2,300 engines and 60,000 employes, and repairs that cost $130,000 a month. The Pennsylvania has a capital of $857,075,500 and 15,430 miles of track, which traverse thirteen states. It has 3,756 locomotives, which consume 20,000 tons of coal a day and make runs equal to the distance around the globe every two hours. It has 3 935 passenger cars, 154,000 freight cars, 350 Pulman cars, 241 other cars for construction and other purposes, making a total of 158,524 cars. The Northwestern boasts of 60,000 employes, but the Pennsylvania company has over 100,000, who, with their families, make a total of about 500,000 persons dependent for living upon the $60,000,000 it distributes in wages every year. Last year the Pennsylvania Railroad company moved 14,395,266,375 tons of freight per mile and carried 1 577,891,050 passengers. In 1895 the Pennsylvania company owned 5 per cent of all the railway mileage in the United States, 10½ per cent, of all the locomotives, 11½ per cent, of all the freight cars and had 13 per cent. of all the railway employes upon its pay rolls. It carried 11 per cent of all the passengers who traveled by rail in the year 1895, and its earnings were 11 2 5 per cent. of all the earnings of all the roads in the country. Like the great Northwestern, the Pennsylvania makes almost everything it uses, and with its plants could build a locomotive every day in the year if it chose to do so.

BRIEF MENTION.

Sickness keeps J. J. Backes from his work in the Pittsburg boiler shop.

James Trythall, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is sick and off duty.

Conductor W. L. Benedict went to the Kankakee marshes this morning to hunt.

R. J. Fisher is looking after business for the Bass works at Huntington and Peru today.

Charlie Stewart, of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, is in a bad way physically. He is troubled with indigestion and so far has found no relief, but is steadily growing weaker. Mr. Stewart has been unable to work for over three weeks.

John C Manary, of the Pittsburg shops, is in Michigan looking after his farm.

Thomas Stonebrook and Charles Buuck, painters in the Pittsburg shops, are fishing at Davis, Ind.

Seymour Boyd, of the Bass office, has joined the army of bicyclists and rides a modern Columbia.

Cashier J. E. Sunderland, of the Wabash, was called to Chicago today on business for the company.

Pittsburg engines 332 250 and 115, which were in the shops for repairs, were turned over to active duty today.

Engineer Theodore Titus, of the Pittsburg, has recovered from an illness which kept him at home over two weeks.

J. C. Gehring, foreman of the lathe department at the Wabash shops, will be the guest of friends at Springfield, Ill., over Sunday.

Allen Pens, a laborer at the coal docks of the Nickel Plate, had his foot badly mashed early this morning He lives at No. 7 Franklin avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. David Prim have gone to Harrisburg, Pa., to see his father. Mr. Prim is a member of the switching crew of engine 189, in the Pittsburg yards.

H. L Magee, general superintendent, and C. B. Adams, general car accountant, of the Wabash, stopped here between trains yesterday to look over the company's property.

The Wabash company has placed an iron roof upon its pattern store house. The shingle roof was a menace to the building and its valuable contents and several times it was discovered to be ablaze.

George W. Skinner, a switchman in the Baltimore and Ohio yards in Chicago, has returned home after a pleasant visit with Master Mechanic Samuel Wass, of Rhinesmith & Simonson's factory.

Vice President Joseph Wood's hunting car is here, being equipped for a pilgrimage to the wilds of Wisconsin. In the hunting party which will leave this city in the car tomorrow will be Supt. G L Potter, of the northwestern system, and Supt. S. P. Bush, of the southwestern system.

William Shepperd, of the electric works is visiting relatives and friends in and about Canton, Ohio.

Henry Hille, of the electric works, is nursing an injured hand which will keep him from his work a few days.

George Hess has been transferred from the machine department to the tool department of the electric works.

Herbert M Wheeler, of Madison, Wis., and Percey Olds, of this city, are taking a student's course at the electric works.

J E Long Pittsburg engineer, has gone to Rome City to fish a few days. He will then close his cottage for the season.

During the absence of Conductor Denbow, who is sick, Extra Conductor Haenel has charge of a Nickel Plate freight train.

Nickel Plate Conductor Geib has taken a run out of Bellevue, and for a week or so will make that city his headquarters.

The first lesson in the school of electricity will be given next Tuesday evening to a class of forty, in which will be several ladies.

Transportation officials are this week inspecting the Baltimore and Ohio lines west. Several of the freight and maintenance officials accompany the party.

The electric works yesterday sent a 1,000-light alternator to Essex Junction, Vt.; a 660 light dynamo to Standish, Mich., and some motors to Buffalo, N. Y.

Under a new order, hereafter passenger engineers and firemen on the Lake Shore are to follow their runs instead of their engines This is a new departure on the Lake Shore lines.

B. T. Bancroft, formerly in the machinery department of the Columbus Sandusky and Hocking, will, on October 1, take the position of superintendent of the Rock Island shops at Chicago.

Joseph Ramsey, jr., vice president and general manager of the Wabash lines, who has been in the City of Mexico a couple of weeks, yesterday returned to his headquarters at St Louis.

Frank Gruber, the boilermaker, has returned from Ocean Grove, N. J., where he spent eight weeks in erecting a stand pipe for water works purposes for the Episcopal Camp Meeting association.

Machinist Bob Taylor, of the Bass works, is off duty on account of sickness. Machinist William Lerch is also absent from duty, he being engaged in the effort to entice a few fish from the Maumee.

A call has been received for the semi-annual meeting at Richmond, Va., of freight claim agents on October 15 Freight claim agents from all parts of the country are expected to be in attendance.

The western roads have voted down a proposition to abolish all stop over privileges in connection with tickets to Utah and Montana points and make all tickets for these places good for continuous passage only.

All the roads running into Chicago have decided to make reduced rates for Chicago day, October 9. There will be several floods of political oratory on that day and the roads are figuring on large crowds of all political faiths.

Travel on the Nickel Plate is increasing in volume and nearly all the trains have a car or two more now than was necessary a few weeks ago. No. 5 last evening had eight cars, four of them Wagner sleepers.

This month five vestibuled combination baggage and passenger cars will be turned out of the Columbus shops for the Pennsylvania lines' Southwestern system. They are said to be very complete in every respect and supplied with all modern inventions

A burglar captured at New Castle, Pa., was found to have in his possession clothing belonging to Vice President Brooks, of the Pennsylvania company, General Superintendent Watts, of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, and of Judge Stowe, who is an attorney of the Pennsylvania lines.

The shipments from the Bass works today included a number of tanks built for the Western Gas Construction company, which were consigned to East Saginaw, Mich., where a big gas plant is to be put in. Another shipment was a large cable pulley to the Shelby Steel Tube company, Shelby, Ohio.

The biennial convention of the Order of Railroad Conductors of America, to be held in Los Angeles, Cal., in the early part of next May, promises to be one of the most notable gatherings in the history of that city. Elaborate preparations are now under way by the railway men of southern California for entertaining the visitors.

The application of the Pennsylvania Railroad company for a $2 differential between Chicago and New York by the Panhandle route is said to be due to the inability of the company to secure its full quota of business. The companies enjoying the differentials, among them the Erie, Ontario and Western, Baltimore and Ohio and some of the Buffalo lines, will naturally insist that if the differential asked for be granted, the Pennsylvania should run a twenty eight hour train. It is said that the Pennsylvania company is losing through business which is going to the $18 roads. The Erie, in particular, has made large increases

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 25.—Will Wood, who introduced Scott Jackson into the house of his cousin, Pearl Bryan, has been trying to enter one of the medical colleges at Indianapolis Young Wood, and his father, a highly respected man, called on Dr. Earp, the dean of the Central College of Physicians and Surgeons. Dr. Earp denied admission to the young man. On Tuesday Wood applied to the Medical College of Indiana for admission, but he has not yet matriculated. Fred Bryan, a brother of the murdered Pearl Bryan, was in Indianapolis yesterday, and stated that Wood had attempted to get in a boarding house on South Meridian street and had failed.

SCIPIO TOWNSHIP.

Speech by John H. Aiken at Center School House.

There was a large and enthusiastic silver meeting at Center School house, in Scipio township, last night. Mr. John H. Aiken and Col. Garey Braybrook, of this city, were the speakers The Maysville Bryan orchestra was present and enlivened the meeting with some excellent music. Colonel Braybrook made a strong and convincing argument for bimetallism which was enthusiastically applauded. Mr. Aiken has been winning praise as a speaker and his speech was so well received that a committee of Maysville silverites extended to him an urgent invitation to address the people of Maysville at a time to be fixed by the county central committee.

There is not a gold democrat in Scipio township while there were present at last night's meeting no less than twelve men who were formerly republicans, but who now openly declare that they will vote for Bryan and free silver.

FINDING HIS PLACE.

The Dominie Had Lost It and His Clerk Helped Him Out.

In former days, especially in England, it was the custom to keep the doors of churches "religiously open" during the services. This practice was picturesque and hospitable, but it had its inconveniences. It made, for instance, the sanctuaries convenient places of refuge and repose for dogs.

It is recorded that in a certain church in Hampshire, England, during the service one Sunday, two dogs which had entered the house got into a fight. The minister ordered his clerk—that English functionary who sits at a desk in front of the pulpit and is ready to perform all manner of services for the minister—to "turn the dogs out."

The clerk endeavored to do so, but he was old and feeble and not equal to the task of parting or removing the animals. He went back to the parson and reported, "They won't go, sir."

"They won't go, eh?" said the minister, very wroth. "Well, John, I'll make 'em go, I warrant you."

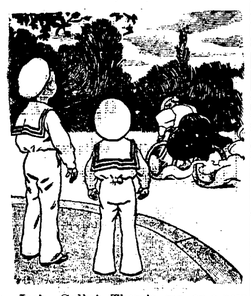

He took off his surplice and descended to the floor, where the dogs were now fighting so fiercely that he had a terrible time in separating them. In the melee he rolled over the floor, sometimes upon the dogs and sometimes under them, but at last he succeeded in kicking them quite out of the house.

Then he returned triumphantly to his place, but in the excitement of the fight he had forgotten where he left off in the service. He appealed to the clerk.

"Where was I just now, John?" he asked.

"On the floor, sir," responded the clerk solemnly, "a-partin the dogs."—Youth's Companion.

What He Would Say.

"What would you say to a good, steady job of work?" asked the kind woman.

"What would I say to a job of work?" repeated Perry Patettic. "Missus, it would be impossible for me to repeat to a lady what I would say to it."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

An Autumn Joy.

The zephyr whirls the falling leaf,
The politicians raise a row,
There's music in the russet sheaf
And in the apple bended bough,
And in our bosom deep somehow
There flows a tender, sweet refrain
As daintily as love's golden vow—
The summer girl's in town again.

No more beside the ocean reef
Will bliss her yearning soul endow,
While making the "engagement" brief
As any law could well allow.
No more she'll sketch the peaceful cow
Upon the daisy dotted plain
While sitting on the rusty plow—
The summer girl's in town again,

For her the autumn has no grief,
The light of spring is on her brow;
Her visions, like her handkerchief,
Are whiter than the snow, we trow.
She dreams of drifting in the scow
While o'er the pavement on a chain
She leads her burnished bow-wow-wow.
The summer girl's in town again.

ENVOI.

The autumn gilds the mottled sow
That with the bean will shortly reign,
And joy dwells in each bosom now—
The summer girl's in town again.
—R. K. Munkittrick in New York Journal

His Only Argument.

I know nothing of bank balance. I have never saved a cent.
I'm about to be evicted for nonpayment of my rent.
I am not at all acquainted with the way a dollar looks.
And my clothing ne'er was weighted with plethoric pocketbooks.
Yet I feel an inward surging of my fevered sporting blood,
And I'll bet ten thousand dollars that McKinley's name is Mud.

Never was a fortune left me, and no fortune have I earned.
All in vain you'll seek the ashes of the money I have burned.
I have never owned a postage stamp that I can recollect.
Nor is money coming to me that I hopefully expect.
Still I'll bet you fifty thousand—you observe that I am game—
That the state that Bryan lives in will repudiate his claim.

I am made of lip and larynx, with a set of leather lungs,
And you'd think when I'm in action that I had a dozen tongues.
I defy the plutocratic hosts who thwart the freeman's will
To do all that's in their power, but they cannot keep me still.
I've an argument that quiets all those traitorous galoots,
I will bet six million dollars with the plutest of the plutes.

I have just one way to argue, and I argue in that way.
You can hear my voice triumphant through the aging of the day.
You can hear me squelch the gold man when he makes his bravest claim;
You can hear me load the silver advocate with grief and shame;
You can hear me by this statement overwhelm all with defeat—
"I will bet ten hundred million dollars that your man is beat."
—Chicago Record.

Mistook Each Other For Turkeys.

At Alachua, Fla., the other morning S. R. Clark and Joseph Shaw started out to hunt wild turkeys. On entering the hammock they separated, going in opposite directions. After going some distance Clark yelped, imitating a turkey, thinking if there were any turkeys near by they would answer him. Mr. Shaw heard the noise, and thinking he had found a drove of turkeys began to yelp also. Each of the men, laboring under the impression that the noise they heard was made by turkeys, kept crawling on his knees in the direction of the yelping. Finally Clark saw a small object which he thought was the turkey, but instead was his companion's head. Clark fired. The whole load of 50 No. 7 turkey shot entered Mr. Shaw's head and neck. Clark ran to get his game, and when he realized what he had done he was overcome with grief. Clark assisted the wounded man on his horse and took him to a house near by and got a man to carry him to his home.

Precocious Chicago Child—Then they must have got their divorce.—Up To Date.

Trials of a Twin.

In form and feature, face and limb,
I grew so like my brother
That folks got taking me for him
And each for one another.
It puzzled all our kith and kin,
It reached a fearful pitch,
For one of us was born a twin,
And not a soul knew which.

One day, to make the matter worse,
Before our names were fixed,
As we were being washed by nurse,
We got completely mixed,
And thus you see by fate's decree,
Or rather nurse's whim,
My brother Jim got christened me
And I got christened him.

This fatal likeness ever dogged
My footsteps when at school,
And I was always getting flogged,
For John turned out a fool.
I put this question fruitlessly
To every one I knew,
What would you do if you were me
To prove that you were you?

Our close resemblance turned the tide
Of my domestic life,
For somehow my intended bride
Became my brother's wife.
In fact, year after year the same
Absurd mistakes went on,
And when I died the neighbors came
And buried brother John.

THE PRIZE BABY OF KANSAS CITY MO.

Cured of Disfiguring ECZEMA By the CUTICURA REMEDIES

Our baby when three weeks old was badly afflicted with Eczema. It first broke out on the head, arms, neck, limbs, and nearly every joint in her body was raw and bleeding when we concluded to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. We began with CUTICURA (ointment) and CUTICURA SOAP, and after the first application we could see a change. After we had used them one week some of the sores had healed entirely, and ceased to spread. In less than a month she was free from scabs and blemishes, and to-day has as lovely skin and hair as any child. She was shown at the Grange Fair, and took a premium as the prettiest baby, over sixteen others MR. & MRS PAGE, 1008 Bellevieu Ave., Kan. City. Sold everywhere. POTTER DRUG & CHEM. CORP., Boston.

All Shown in the Bell's Ready-to-Wear, Easy-to-Buy and Best-in-Value Suits and Overcoats.

Men's Fall Clothes.

It would be easier to tell you what we haven't got than to describe what is here. So we'll simply ask the men folks to come and see. Ask for the $10, $12 and $15 Suits. They're marvels of perfection in style and fit. The novelties in English and Scotch fabrics—quiet mixtures—softly blended colors, modest stripes, plaids and checks. You'll have to see them. They'll suit every dresser—every man except the custom tailor. They won't suit him, because they kill his business, being equally as perfect in style, make and fit, at more than one third less than he could possibly make them for. See them in our show windows.

All-wool Cheviot Suits,

IN THE BAY STATE.

Candidate Bryan Expounds the Democratic Doctrine.

Thousands Turn Out to Greet Him and Give Him a Cordial Reception.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Sept. 25.—Greatly refreshed by a ten hours' sleep, Wm. J. Bryan left Hartford at 11:10 a. m. to "invade the enemy's country" still further. There was a crowd at the depot to catch a parting glimpse of the nominee, and to these Mr. Bryan made a few remarks. He told them that the money changer was interested in having a dear dollar and that the dear dollar meant hard times to the producers of wealth. There was no demonstration, no cheering, and nothing in the way of enthusiasm. In the train was a committee from Springfield, headed by Col. John L Rice. The first stop was at Windsor, where a small crowd had gathered carrying the banner "McKinley and prosperity." There were a few cheers for him by part of the crowd and more cheers for his opponent. At Windsor Locks, the next stop, the assemblage was more enthusiastic for Mr. Bryan. There everybody wanted to shake hands with him and called on him for a speech. "I am glad to see you," was the extent of his address, and even that was applauded. Tompkinsville also gave him a cordial reception and he was cheered enthusiastically by the hundreds about the depot.

Mr. Bryan arrived in Springfield at 12:05 and was met at the station by Mayor Winter, members of the bar and aldermen, and Geo. Fred Williams. A great crowd followed him to the court square, where he spoke to a large audience that filled the park. On the conclusion of the speech he went to the Hotel Worthy for dinner. In the court park Mr. Bryan spoke as follows:

"Ladies and Gentlemen:—Before entering upon a discussion of the great paramount issue of this campaign, I desire in this city to pay a tribute to independent journalism. My friends, I have always respected an honest and earnest and able opponent. I never criticised the right of any one to speak his sentiments and present his ideas as clearly, as forcibly, as eloquently as he can. I believe, with Jefferson, that error is harmless where reason is left free to combat it. And if any man has an idea, I am willing to allow him to launch that idea and trust to the merits of that idea to make its way into the minds and into the hearts of men, and I respect the Springfield Republican for the high plane upon which it discusses political questions. I respect it for the tolerance which it shows to political opponents, and without censuring those who substitute abuse for argument, I can commend those who use argument instead of abuse. I can commend also to every citizen the words of that distinguished editor who was the founder of this paper. I am told that he is the author of the expression that "a man who is not willing to die for a cause in which he believes is not worthy to live." My friends, it is the willingness of people to stake their all upon the correctness of their convictions that has enabled them to spread them from person to person until at last they overcome the opposition. And in this campaign we have as good an illustration as was ever given of the depth of conviction and the intensity of earnestness in the presentation of this cause. I challenge you to find among all those who have defended a cause any who are more earnest than those, found today among the advocates of the right of the government to legislate for itself without regard to other nations. It will not do to say that there is no cause for such feeling as is manifested now. If you will read the dispatch that appeared in yesterday morning's paper from London, you will find that a great meeting of agriculturalists was held in Buda Pesth, and in speaking of that meeting the dispatches said practically all of those representing agricultural societies were in favor of the restoration of bimetallism. Our opponents sometimes tell us that this movement in favor of free coinage is started by the mine owners and that it is upheld by the mine owners. I want you to understand that they cannot explain this great uprising of the people on the theory that it is instigated by men who own bullion and want a higher price. This great uprising comes from the masses of the people who do not produce bullion, but they produce property, and they realize that the gold standard has been depriving values to the property they produce. The opposition press may well afford to pause in their ridicule of the advocates of free coinage in their denunciation of them as lawless characters to find out whether this well founded reason for this advocacy of bimetallism among the farmers of the United States, of Ireland, of England, of Germany, of France and of every nation which has been cursed by the gold standard.

"My friends, I assert here, and I challenge any gold bug paper to dispute it, that a financial policy which is injurious to agricultural classes has nothing to commend it to the government in any nation on earth. Gold standard has never commended itself to the agricultural classes of any country which has ever had it. What will you say, then? Will you say that these farmers have no right to have their interests respected? You dare not say that, because, my friends, they must produce wealth before there is wealth to be distributed. What will you say, then? That, having the right to have their interests respected, they have not the intelligence to know what is best for them? No, you dare not, because you know that in public life and in business life the best brains that you have come from the farms of this country.

"What answer will you make to them? When they ask for bread, will you give them a stone? When they ask for fish, will you bestow a serpent upon them? That has been the policy of the financiers of this country, and disguising their selfishness they have been attempting to force their ideas upon others. While others have fallen down beneath the weight of those ideas, the financiers themselves have risen to prosperity on the prostrate forms of the fallen. No person can accuse me of attempting to deny to the financiers, or even to the money changers the right to their opinion, the right to their votes, the right to every legitimate influence. What I deny to them is this: The right to think for anybody but themselves, the right to act for anybody but themselves, the right to put themselves above other people and go through the world crying, 'I am holier than thou; I am holier than thou.'"

YALE DENOUNCED.

Leading Paper of the Town Condemns the Students.

Calls Their Demonstration "Horse Play," and Characterizes It as Disgraceful to the Actors.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 25.—The Yale News today has the following editorial commenting on the disturbance at the Bryan meeting here yesterday: "The News must deprecate the spirit of 'horse play'—this is the true light in which the animus must be regarded which prompted the demonstration at yesterday's political meeting. The action of the Yale men present plainly showed a lack of respect for the dignity of the speaker as a public man, everything political aside; and thoughtful and fairminded consideration will unanimously condemn and regret the exhibition, irrespective of party affiliation."

BICYCLE RACE.

The Great Twenty-four Hour Affair Now On.

The Winner Must Cover Four Hundred Miles—Gimm Bids Fair to Reach the Present.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—The remarkable twenty-four hour bicycle race on one of the finest tracks in the world is going on today, with the men in apparently good condition after the race last night that established fifty and 100 mile records which may hold for years. The feature of this race has been the lowering of records by so many riders in a twenty four hour race. The record up to last night for 100 miles had been for trials, and not in a race. The conditions of this race are that even the winner of the fifty and 100 mile records will not be paid unless he rides at least 400 miles during the twenty-four hours and, should he accomplish the feat of winning the twenty-four hour race, he stands to win a large number of prizes for time records on fifty, 100 and other distances, also a prize for winning the twenty-four hour race. At 11 o'clock this morning the score stood: Gimm, 309; Schinner, 292; Miller, 289; Waller, 282 miles, 2 laps; Myers, 276 miles, 1 lap; Harding, 269; Schock, 262; Hanson, 255 miles, 3 laps; Blakeslee, 237 miles, 3 laps.

END OF THE SEVENTEENTH HOUR.

At 2 p. m., the conclusion of the seventeenth hour, the score of the riders was: Gimm, 366 miles, 3 laps; Schinner, 341 miles, 1 lap; Waller, 344 miles, 1 lap; Miller, 322 miles, 2 laps; Myers, 321 miles; Schock, 316 miles; Harding, 316 miles, 1 lap.

M'KINLEY'S VISITORS.

The Glassmakers of Marion Call Upon Him.

They Are Numerous Enough to Fill Eight Coaches, and Have Two Brass Bands.

CANTON, Ohio, Sept. 25.—Members of the McKinley household had not breakfasted when the first delegation arrived this morning. It was from Marion, Ind., occupied a special train of eight coaches and represented the glassworkers of Grant county, Ind. The introduction was made by Dr. W. R. Francis. Two bands came with the party. Mr. McKinley spoke as follows:

"My fellow citizens of the city of Marion and of Grant county, Indiana: I congratulate you upon being first today. No other delegation has yet preceded you. I give you, each and everyone of you, warm and cordial welcome to my home. I welcome the republicans and the citizens of the Hoosier state—the state of that grand old war governor, Oliver P. Morton, and that splendid president and patriot, Benjamin Harrison.

"You are here this morning, not to honor me personally, but to honor the cause which you love and which you mean to support; and you mean to support that cause because you believe it will inure to your welfare and the best well being of the country at large.

You believe in that cause, because you have tried it, and having tried it you know you have been more prosperous in your occupations under the policy which it represents, than you have ever been under any other policy, and if anything was needed to confirm you in your devotion to that policy you could find it in your experience of the last four years. Under no other policy, under no other principles, have you enjoyed that depth of individual or national prosperity which for more than thirty years you enjoyed under republican policy and republican administrations, and you are here this morning to testify anew your devotion to republican principles and your deep and abiding interest that they may be successful throughout the country next November.

"You are interested in Indiana just as we are interested here in Ohio, both in agriculture and in manufacturing. You know something in that great gas belt of what manufacturing means to any community. You know where there is successful manufacturing there is a prosperous city, and you know where there is a prosperous city there is always prosperous agriculture. The farms about a little manufacturing city advance in value and the market of the farmer is enhanced every time you put up a new factory in any community or in any city. You have in your city of Marion, as I recall, an industry which manufactures glass that used to be in the city of Canton. Am I right about that? It is a good industry. Well, now, that fairly illustrates my idea. That used to be, I said, a Canton industry. We would very much have preferred to have had it remain here, but it was taken away. However, it did not go out of our own country. It went into a neighboring state and therefore benefits the American family—American workmen still get the work. We share in your good fortune and prosperity, but we would have felt differently if it had gone on the other side and out of the United States. In a word, we want to do our manufacturing at home, and if we cannot do it in Ohio, we are willing to have you do it in Indiana. And, if we cannot do it in Canton, I do not know of any city in Indiana in which I would rather have it go than the city of Marion.

"I am glad to meet you here this morning. We want in this country good times, good wages, steady employment, a good home market and then we want to continue the good, sound, honest dollars with which to do our business and pay our labor. My fellow citizens, I thank you for this morning call and bid you hearty welcome. It will now give me pleasure to meet and greet each one of you personally."

DEMOCRATIC LADIES

Will Attend the Bryan Meeting at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 25.—One of the features of the Bryan speaking in this city on the morning of October 5 will be a ladies' Bryan and Sewall club from Mississippi. A letter was received for the transportation of the club by the Illinois Central passenger department yesterday, asking for two special cars for the club. There will be an army from Woodruff county, Ark., composed of some 500, moving a'la Coxey. The movement is under the direction of Capt. R. N. Westmoreland, an old war horse in those parts. He has been already tendered fifty wagons and teams by the farmers in the vicinity of Cotton Plant, and with this as the basis of the organization he will set out on Friday, October 2.

To Take the Places of Strikers.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., Sept. 25.—About 100 miners from the southern Kansas and Joplin districts have left here in special cars for Leadville, Colo., to take the places of the striking miners there. They go under contract and are piloted by a representative of the mine owners.

Two Drowned.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 25.—Thos. Willard, a brick layer, while in a drunken spree, yesterday took his son, aged seventeen; Mary Wilbert, aged twelve, and Mary Gray skiff riding on the Ohio river. He upset the boat. James McGrail rowed out and rescued Mary Gray and Willard's son. Willard and Mary Wilbert were drowned.

MINING TROUBLES.

Leadville Under Control of a Provost Guard.

A Clash Between Judicial and Federal Authority Is One of the Probabilities.

LEADVILLE, Col., Sept. 25.—Under the latest order of General Brooks this city was today placed under the control of a provost guard of military police force. The miners from Joplin, Mo., numbering about 100 men, who will arrive here today, have been engaged to work in the Marian, Small Hopes and Emmett mines, of the Small Hopes companies, of which S. W. Mudd is manager. The Emmett has been working right along with a small force of nonunion men. The other two mines named will be started up at once under a strong guard. Great pressure has been brought to bear upon Edward Joyce, president of the Western Federation of Miners, to induce him to use his influence with the Leadville Miners' union to call the strike off. He refused and said that not 5 per cent. of the members of the union would vote to call the strike off. An attempt will be made today to have the accused men admitted to bail. Judge Owens will probably grant the application. It is expected that General Brooks will have them immediately re-arrested. They may then obtain writs of habeas corpus. Should General Brooks ignore such writs, he will be cited for contempt of court and the governor's report to place the community under military rule will be reviewed in court. The case is likely to reach the supreme court on a writ of error.

LOCAL LINES.

Miss Anna Bockoll, of Lakeside, left the city this morning to visit relatives at Milwaukee, Wis., and St. Cloud, Minn.

KING JOHN R. GENTRY.

His Time is 2:00 1-2 at Rigby Park.

Paces the Fastest Mile Ever Made in Harness—Frank Bogash Wins at Columbus, Ohio.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 25.—John R. Gentry yesterday afternoon, at Rigby park, paced the fastest mile ever made in harness, and placed the world's record at 2:00½.

The day was cold and a light north westerly wind was blowing up the stretch when John R. Gentry, with W. S. Andrews upon the sulky, came out to go against his record of 2:01¼, made September 3 this year, at Glens Falls, N. Y., in the second heat of a race with Star Pointer.

Gentry had been given two warming up miles during the afternoon, and when he came out for the third the sun was rapidly sinking. The famous pacer scored once or twice with the runner who was to pace him.

The runner was at the pacer's throat latch as they made the first turn on the stretch. Gentry went steadily and with apparent ease, the runner having hard work keeping his position. The judges caught the quarter mile at 29½ seconds, and the second quarter was made in 30 seconds, making the half mile in 0:59½.

The runner, by the use of the whip, was keeping up at Gentry's wheel, but was making hard work of it. The third quarter was made in :30¼, making the three quarters in 1:30¼. As they turned into the home stretch and caught the wind in the teeth, both Andrews and the driver commenced to ring encouragement to their horses and to use the whip a little.

The pacer spurted for the wire, making the most remarkable quarter of the heat in :30¼, making the mile in 2:00½.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 25.—Yesterday the weather was clear and warm; track fast. Joe Mooney won the unfinished 2:24 pace, taking the fifth heat in 2:11¼. The summaries:

2:18 trot, purse $500—Red Pointer, first; Marquette, second; Irene Bobb, third; best time—2:17½.

2:11 pace, purse $500—Frank Bogash, first; Mary Russell, second; Billy C., third; best time—2:09½.

2:35 trot, purse $500 (unfinished)—Bright Light won the first heat in 2:19¼ and Rosa L. the second and third heats in 2:17¼, 2:17¼.

RUN DOWN AT LAST.

Arrest of John Riley Results in Startling Disclosures.

One of an Organized Gang of Daylight Burglars Captured While Robbing the Crane Residence.

Miss Alice Crane, while alone at her home, corner of Jefferson and College streets, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, discovered the presence of a man in the house. The intruder had entered through a back window while the young lady was up stairs. Hearing a noise below, Miss Crane went down and was startled by coming face to face with a real daylight burglar. She demanded to know the reason for his presence there, at which he endeavored to convince her that he had followed a thief into the house for the purpose of capturing him. Surprised at the man's brazen efforts to thus reassure her, yet not losing her presence of mind, Miss Crane ran to the front door and gave the alarm. Several workmen engaged on the street paving contract hastened to the spot but the fellow had improved the opportunity to make a hasty flight. He ran through the back yard and through the alley, closely pursued, and, in crossing a lot, as lucky chance would have it, he ran into the arms of Officer Hobbs.

The prisoner was taken to the station by Officers Hobbs and Tegeler. On his person was found a roll of money amounting to $168 and a package of bills advertising political meetings. The latter, it is supposed, he was passing from house to house as a dodge to assist him in the work of daylight robbery.

The prisoner gives his name as John Riley and says he came from Columbus, Ohio. At police court this morning he waived examination and was sent to jail under $500 bond. He retained E. V. Emrick as his attorney.

There is convincing evidence of Riley being one of an organized gang of thieves, although he endeavors to face the charges with an air of innocence. No more substantial evidence of this fact could be found than the shoes on his feet, which were identified by Gus Rabus as his own this morning. It is pretty clear, then, that either this man or some of his associates went through the Rabus residence a week ago.

The officers think they have cornered a dangerous criminal, and Miss Crane is winning praise from every quarter for her clever work under such a trying ordeal.

Superintendent Gorsline will make an effort to draw out some facts from the prisoner, which may lead to the arrest of the entire gang. The inducement of lessening his own sentence by turning states evidence and implicating others may work wonders in this case.

TWO BAD BOYS.

William Monahan, eighteen years, and Robert Droegemeyer, sixteen years, were arrested by Officer Hobbs last night for jumping on trains. The boys have been giving the railroads and others a good deal of trouble lately and the mayor fined both of them $10 and costs, but suspended sentence, pending good behavior.

THIS IS STRANGE.

Maggie O'Leary, known vulgarly as "Skinny Mag," was behind the bars again last night for vagrancy. The mayor sent her to jail.

BOTH LEGS CRUSHED.

John C. Matsch, Formerly of This City, the Victim.

Amputation of Both Limbs May be Necessary—Born and Raised in Fort Wayne.

Painful news reached the city today of a terrible accident which happened to John C. Matsch, a former citizen of Fort Wayne and who was born and raised here.

Mr. Matsch has for several years occupied the position of foreman in the Pacific Iron works at San Francisco, Cal. The distressing message states that Mr. Matsch, while overseeing the construction of a large building, was pinned to the earth by an iron beam, which fell from a heighth of fifty feet. The immense weight caught him just above the knees, crushing both legs so badly that amputation may become necessary. The injury at any rate will undoubtedly make him a cripple for life.

Mr. Matsch has a wide circle of acquaintances in Fort Wayne. He is a member in good standing of Harmony lodge No. 19, I. O. O. F., and Summit City lodge No. 170, F. and A. M. His brother, Christian Matsch, is the chief clerk for Superintendent Fiskard, at the Bass foundry and M. F. Schmetzer, the township trustee, is a brother-in-law.

J. B. Emrick, of Poe, Allen county, Ind., fell off a scaffold while building a wood shed, and broke his left arm. Mr. Emrick is well known in Fort Wayne.

Fred Miller, of the Indiana Furniture company, is suffering from a crushed foot, received while drilling with the Zollinger battery.

A little daughter of John Bernhart, of DeWald street, fell on a piece of broken bottle while at play yesterday afternoon and almost cut her nose off. Dr. J. E. Miller dressed the wound.

QUICKLY DONE.

Two Other Divorce Cases Begun in the Courts—Criminal Suit on Trial.

Randall & Doughman, as attorneys for the plaintiff, Dora Schlaudroff, filed a complaint in the circuit court this morning asking for a legal separation from her husband, George Schlaudroff. The defendant had accepted service of summons and the case was called up at once before Judge O'Rourke and the divorce was granted on the grounds of abandonment. The plaintiff was restored to her maiden name, Dora Ormiston.

James R. Johnston, through his attorney, J. H. Powers, has brought suit in the superior court asking for a legal separation from Harriet Julia Johnston.

Walter Kelsey and Harry Ward are on trial in the circuit court for burglarizing the Pantitorium. They entered this place and stole a pair of pants belonging to C. D. Law, superintendent of the Pennsylvania railroad company. They are being defended by W. P. Breen and John Rodabaugh.

John Wolbold and Orphae Wolbold, James R. Miller and Lotte Herring, Henry D. Horman and Carrie Rehling, Henry R. Welton and Gertrude Dougherty have been licensed to wed.

James Reed is on trial before Justice France for assaulting Andrew Anderson. The parties live at Edgerton.

An application has been made in the circuit court for the appointment of a guardian for Patrick Killian, who is alleged to be an habitual drunkard. R. B. Dreibelbiss, the attorney, drew up and filed the application for the parties interested.

Irene Bristol has commenced divorce proceedings against Adaris P. Bristol. The complaint alleges abandonment and failure to provide. T. W. Wilson, attorney for the plaintiff.

RAILWAY RUMBLINGS.

The Pennsylvania Will Carry the Chicago Cyclists to Canton.

America Has the Greatest Railway in the World—Summary of the Shops and Offices.

The Pennsylvania local officials have received notice of a proposed excursion over the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road of the National Wheelmen's McKinley club, of Chicago, to Canton on October 21. Concerning the matter the Chicago Herald says: "It is estimated that from 3,000 to 5,000 bicyclists will make the pilgrimage. The excursionists will leave the trains at Massillon and ride into Canton on their wheels. By the rules of the Pennsylvania company no charge will be made for carrying the bicycles."

At the Pennsylvania offices a Sentinel reporter was informed that, if the above estimate of the number of excursionists is correct, it would require eleven trains of eight or ten cars each to carry them. It would also require three freight trains of thirty-four box cars each to carry the bicycles. These men and their wheels, riding two abreast and allowing fifteen feet of space for each couple, would form a line over seven miles in length, reaching from Massillon to Canton.

THE PENNSYLVANIA AMONG THE WORLD.

The London and Northwestern Railroad company has a capital of $600,000,000. It has a revenue of $6,800 an hour, 2,300 engines and 60,000 employes, and repairs that cost $120,000 a month. The Pennsylvania has a capital of $867,075,500 and 15,430 miles of track, which traverse thirteen states. It has 3,756 locomotives, which consume 20,000 tons of coal a day and make runs equal to the distance around the globe every two hours. It has 2,925 passenger cars, 144,000 freight cars, 380 Pulman cars, 341 other cars for construction and other purposes, making a total of 156,524 cars. The Northwestern boasts of 60,000 employes, but the Pennsylvania company has over 100,000, who, with their families, make a total of about 500,000 persons dependent for living upon the $60,000,000 it distributes in wages every year. Last year the Pennsylvania Railroad company moved 14,396,266,173 tons of freight per mile and carried 1,077,891,000 passengers. In 1895 the Pennsylvania company owned 5 per cent of all the railway mileage in the United States, 10½ per cent of all the locomotives, 11½ per cent of all the freight cars and had 12 per cent of all the railway employes upon its pay rolls. It carried 11 per cent of all the passengers who traveled by rail in the year 1895, and its earnings were 11.5 per cent of all the earnings of all the roads in the country. Like the great Northwestern, the Pennsylvania makes almost everything it uses, and with its plants could build a locomotive every day in the year if it chose to do so.

BRIEF MENTION.

Joseph Ramsey, Jr., vice president and general manager of the Wabash lines, who has been in the City of Mexico a couple of weeks, yesterday returned to his headquarters at St. Louis.

Frank Gruber, the boilermaker, has returned from Ocean Grove, N. J., where he spent eight weeks in erecting a stand pipe for water works purposes for the Episcopal Camp Meeting association.

Machinist Bob Taylor, of the Bass works, is off duty on account of sickness. Machinist William Leach is also absent from duty, he being engaged in the effort to entice a few fish from the Maumee.

A call has been received for the semi-annual meeting at Richmond, Va., of freight claim agents on October 15. Freight claim agents from all parts of the country are expected to be in attendance.

The western roads have voted down a proposition to abolish all stop over privileges in connection with tickets to Utah and Montana points and make all tickets for these places good for continuous passage only.

All the roads running into Chicago have decided to make reduced rates for Chicago day, October 9. There will be several floods of political oratory on that day and the roads are figuring on large crowds of all political faiths.

Travel on the Nickel Plate is increasing in volume and nearly all the trains have a car or two more now than was necessary a few weeks ago. No. 5 last evening had eight cars, four of them Wagner sleepers.

This month five vestibuled combination baggage and passenger cars will be turned out at the Columbus shops for the Pennsylvania lines' Southwestern system. They are said to be very complete in every respect and supplied with all modern inventions.

A burglar captured at New Castle, Pa., was found to have in his possession clothing belonging to Vice President Brooks, of the Pennsylvania company, General Superintendent Watts, of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, and of Judge Stowe, who is an attorney of the Pennsylvania lines.

The shipments from the Bass works today included a number of tanks built for the Western Gas Construction company, which were consigned to East Saginaw, Mich., where a big gas plant is to be put in. Another shipment was a large cable pulley to the Shelby Steel Tube company, Shelby, Ohio.

The biennial convention of the Order of Railroad Conductors of America, to be held in Los Angeles, Cal., in the early part of next May, promises to be one of the most notable gatherings in the history of that city. Elaborate preparations are now under way by the railway men of southern California for entertaining the visitors.

The application of the Pennsylvania Railroad company for a $2 differential between Chicago and New York by the Panhandle route is said to be due to the inability of the company to secure its full quota of business. The companies enjoying the differentials, among them the Erie, Ontario and Western, Baltimore and Ohio and some of the Buffalo lines, will naturally insist that if the differential asked for be granted, the Pennsylvania should run a twenty-eight hour train. It is said that the Pennsylvania company is losing through business which is going to the $18 roads. The Erie, in particular, has made large increases.

FARMER SLYBOY'S FATAL MISTAKE.

1—Farmer Slyboy grows tired of losing his pears and ties faithful Fido to the tree for protection.

2—But it rained,

3—the rope shrunk,

4—and poor Fido's execution was complete.

Card of Thanks.

The family of L. H. Nickerson desire in this way to return thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly aided and sympathized with them in their recent sad affliction.

A precious one from us has gone
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.

God, in His wisdom, has recalled
The boon His love had given,
And though the body moulders here,
The soul is safe in heaven.

WOOD OSTRACIZED.

Society Shuns the Cousin of Pearl Bryan.

Boarding Houses Refuse to Entertain Him and Medical Colleges Bar Him.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 25.—Will Wood, who introduced Scott Jackson into the house of his cousin, Pearl Bryan, has been trying to enter one of the medical colleges at Indianapolis. Young Wood, and his father, a highly respected man, called on Dr. Earp, the dean of the Central College of Physicians and Surgeons. Dr. Earp denied admission to the young man. On Tuesday Wood applied to the Medical College of Indiana for admission, but he has not yet matriculated. Fred Bryan, a brother of the murdered Pearl Bryan, was in Indianapolis yesterday, and stated that Wood had attempted to get in a boarding house on South Meridian street and had failed.

SCIPIO TOWNSHIP.

Speech by John H. Aiken at Center School House.

There was a large and enthusiastic silver meeting at Center School house, in Scipio township, last night. Mr. John H. Aiken and Col Curey Braybrook, of this city, were the speakers. The Maysville Bryan orchestra was present and enlivened the meeting with some excellent music. Colonel Braybrook made a strong and convincing argument for bimetallism which was enthusiastically applauded. Mr. Aiken has been winning praise as a speaker and his speech was so well received that a committee of Maysville silverites extended to him an urgent invitation to address the people of Maysville at a time to be fixed by the county central committee.

There is not a gold democrat in Scipio township while there were present at last night's meeting no less than twelve men who were formerly republicans, but who now openly declare that they will vote for Bryan and free silver.

FINDING HIS PLACE.

The Dominie Had Lost It and His Clerk Helped Him Out.

In former days, especially in England, it was the custom to keep the doors of churches "religiously open" during the services. This practice was picturesque and hospitable, but it had its inconveniences. It made, for instance, the sanctuaries convenient places of refuge and repose for dogs.

It is recorded that in a certain church in Hampshire, England, during the service one Sunday, two dogs which had entered the house got into a fight. The minister ordered his clerk—that English functionary who sits at a desk in front of the pulpit and is ready to perform all manner of services for the minister—to "turn the dogs out."

The clerk endeavored to do so, but he was old and feeble and not equal to the task of parting or removing the animals. He went back to the parson and reported, "They won't go, sir."

"They won't go, eh?" said the minister, very wroth. "Well, John, I'll make 'em go, I warrant you."

He took off his surplice and descended to the floor, where the dogs were now fighting so fiercely that he had a terrible time in separating them. In the melee he rolled over the floor, sometimes upon the dogs and sometimes under them, but at last he succeeded in kicking them quite out of the house.

Then he returned triumphantly to his place, but in the excitement of the fight he had forgotten where he left off in the service. He appealed to the clerk.

"Where was I just now, John?" he asked.

"On the floor, sir," responded the clerk solemnly, "a-partin the dogs."—Youth's Companion.

"Yez wor indade. Oi had ty look twoice ty re'lize that the man that stepped along so loively an aisy ty the music wor me own husband thot wasn't able ty walk aroun the corner ty the grocery lasht noight becaase av the rheumatism."—Washington Star.

What He Would Say.

"What would you say to a good, steady job of work?" asked the kind woman.

"What would I say to a job of work?" repeated Perry Patettic. "Missus, it would be impossible for me to repeat to a lady what I would say to it."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The General Belief.

Philadelphia Miss—The streets in Philadelphia run at right angles, you know.

New York Mister—I beg your pardon. I didn't know anything ran in Philadelphia.—New York Sun.

An Autumn Joy.

The zephyr whirls the falling leaf,
The politicians raise a row,
There's mirth in the russet sheaf
And in the apple bended bough,
And in our bosom deep somehow
There flows a tender, sweet refrain
As dainty as love's golden vow—
The summer girl's in town again.

No more beside the ocean reef
Will bliss her yearning soul endow,
While making the "engagement" brief
As any law could well allow.
No more she'll shriek the peaceful cow
Upon the daisy dotted plain
While sitting on the rusty plow—
The summer girl's in town again.

For her the autumn has no grief.
The light of spring is on her brow;
Her visions, like her handkerchief,
Are whiter than the snow, we trow.
She dreams of drifting in the scow
While o'er the pavement on a chain
She leads her barnished bow-wow-wow.
The summer girl's in town again.

ENVOI.

The autumn gilds the mottled sow
That with the bean will shortly reign,
And joy dwells in each bosom now—
The summer girl's in town again.
—R. K. Munkittrick in New York Journal.

His Only Argument.

I know nothing of bank balance. I have never saved a cent.
I'm about to be evicted for nonpayment of my rent.
I am not at all acquainted with the way a dollar looks,
And my clothing ne'er was weighted with plethoric pocketbooks.
Yet I feel as [illegible]
And I'll bet ten thousand dollars that McKinley's name is Mud.

Never was a fortune left me, and no fortune have I earned.
All in vain you'll seek the ashes of the money I have burned.
I have never owned a postage stamp that I can swallow,
Nor is money coming to me that I hopefully expect.
Still I'll bet you fifty thousand—you observe that I am game—
That the man who Bryan lives in will repudiate his claim.

I am made of lip and larynx, with a set of leather lungs,
And you'd think when I'm in action that I had a dozen tongues.
I defy the plutocratic boss who thwarts the freeman's will
To do all that's in their power, but they cannot keep me still.
I've an argument that quiets all these tradition gabbers,
I will bet six million dollars with the plutest of the plutes.

I have just one way to argue, and I argue in this way:
You can hear my voice triumphant through the ssing of the day.
You can hear me squelch the gold man when he makes his bravest claim;
You can hear me load the silver advocate with grief and shame;
You can hear me by this statement overwhelm all with defeat—
"I will bet ten hundred million dollars that your man is beat."
—Chicago Record.

Mistook Each Other For Turkeys.

At Alachua, Fla., the other morning S. R. Clark and Joseph Shaw started out to hunt wild turkeys. On entering the hammock they separated, going in opposite directions. After going some distance Clark yelped, imitating a turkey, thinking if there were any turkeys near by they would answer him. Mr. Shaw heard the noise, and thinking he had found a drove of turkeys began to yelp also. Each of the men, laboring under the impression that the noise they heard was made by turkeys, kept crawling on his knees in the direction of the yelping. Finally Clark saw a small object which he thought was the turkey, but instead was his companion's head. Clark fired. The whole load of 30 No. 7 turkey shot entered Mr. Shaw's head and neck. Clark ran to get his game, and when he realized what he had done he was overcome with grief. Clark assisted the wounded man on his horse and took him to a house near by and got a man to carry him to his home.

Precocious Chicago Child—Then they must have got their divorce.—Up To Date.

Trials of a Twin.

In form and feature, face and limb,
I grew so like my brother
That folks got taking me for him
And each for one another.
It puzzled all our kith and kin,
It reached a fearful pitch,
For one of us was born a twin,
And not a soul knew which.

One day, to make the matter worse,
Before our names were fixed,
As we were being washed by nurse,
We got completely mixed,
And thus you see by fate's decree,
Or rather nurse's whim,
My brother Jim got christened me
And I got christened him.

This fatal likeness ever dogged
My footsteps when at school,
And I was always getting flogged,
For John turned out a fool.
I put this question fruitlessly
To every one I knew,
What would you do if you were me
To prove that you were you?

Our close resemblance turned the tide
Of my domestic life,
For somehow my intended bride
Became my brother's wife.
In fact, year after year the same
Absurd mistakes went on,
And when I died the neighbors came
And buried brother John.

FALL STYLES IN MEN'S ATTIRE.

All Shown in the Bell's Ready-to-Wear, Easy-to-Buy and Best-in-Value Suits and Overcoats.

Men's Fall Clothes.

It would be easier to tell you what we haven't got than to describe what is here. So we'll simply ask the men folks to come and see. Ask for the $10, $12 and $15 Suits. They're marvels of perfection in style and fit. The novelties in English and Scotch fabrics—quiet mixtures—softly blended colors, modest stripes, plaids and checks. You'll have to see them. They'll suit every dresser—every man except the custom tailor. They won't suit him, because they kill his business, being equally as perfect in style, make and fit, at more than one third less than he could possibly make them for. See them in our show windows.

All-wool Cheviot Suits.

$4 75

An eye opener for competition Brand new black and blue strictly all wool Cheviot Suits, straight cut, round cut and double breasted Sacks, stitched with silk, lined with fine Italian; style and get up like a $15 Suit $4 75 here. At least $8.00 elsewhere.

Boys' New Fall Suits,

$1.35 to $4.

$4.00

Buys a strictly All Wool outfit, in neat pretty Scotch mixtures double seat and knee—a suit with every seam double sewed and put up to wear.

$1.50

For Boys' genuine all Wool School Suits. These are suits put up for hard wear. We've sold a lot of them the past week, and there's no house in Fort Wayne can touch them.
